

12g A&D ejector by Gallyon & Sons – 28? x 2 3/4? barrels

Description

This Gallyon is likely to have been built in the 60s. Marked No 2 of a pair, the gun has 28? x 2 3/4? steel barrels, choked true cylinder and 1/4. Retaining over 95% original hardening colour, the engraving style on the action is rose and scroll and Gallyon's hall of plenty is engraved on the bow of the guard. The Anson fore-end is fitted with Southgate ejectors and the gun has a straight-hand 14 3/4? stock, including a 1/2? recoil pad. Presented in its canvas and leather case with Gallyon trade label, this gun will fire standard steel cartridges without alteration.
