

12g A&D Ejector by Thomas Turner – 28 x 2 1/2? barrels

Description

This left hand opening Thomas Turner was built circa 1900. Barrels are 28? x 2 1/2? steel which are choked improved cylinder and 1/2 and the top rib reads “Thomas Turner, Fisher Street, Birmingham”. The scroll backed action is half engraved with fine scroll as is the receiver engraving. The lever opens to the left, it has a third locking grip to the barrels and has a full spindle lever system with rocker safe, and Deeley box ejectors. Stock dimensions are 14 x 21, it is beautifully figured with panels and drop points and it has been re-chequered and polished. A super gun and being left handed opening, makes it scarce.
